

Wayne's BP in Dillon knows how to make their lottery players feel welcome.

By Rodney Rogers, Coastal MSR

Wayne's BP in Dillon is an example of a successful lottery retailer.

This location certainly knows how to make its lottery players feel special. For example, a separate sales counter is designated just for lottery players, so they won't have to wait in long lines. Wayne's BP also works hard to keep all available scratch tickets fully stocked in the ticket dispenser, so players will have a great selection of tickets from which to choose.

The staff has developed friendships with lottery customers and looks forward to seeing and chatting with them. The location always encourages customers to give the Lottery's online games a try, especially on draw nights for Powerball®. Located on the North Carolina border, staff also makes sure to offer the advance play option to their out-of-town customers.
